

MARKETING & PR MANAGER

Temp to Perm
Marketing Department, January 2023

WE ARE TOMMY, ARE YOU?

Do you love spreading the good word about great work? Are you able to think strategically about what makes a message resonate? Do you get the nuance of each social channel and love them for it? Tommy is seeking an experienced Marketing & PR Manager looking for a part-time post (circa 20-25 hours per week) reporting to our London office, representing Tommy as a global group. This post could be perfect for a parent returning to work or anyone who requires flexible hours and independent working.

Founded in 2009, Tommy is an award-winning global creative innovation agency, which develops rich digital experiences, underpinned by sophisticated technical excellence, communications strategy, and exceptional design. Working on more than 150 top 10 box office movies, retailers, and FMCG brands in over 60 countries around the world - Tommy is the leader in some of the most advanced digital campaigns online today.

We are looking for someone who can help us become famous for what we do. Someone who can deliver strategic insight and finely crafted marketing campaigns for our business, in the same way that we do for our clients.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Reporting to the Chief Growth Officer, our Marketing & PR Manager will design and deliver both campaign-led and evergreen marketing plans for Tommy. You will be an excellent writer with an eye for detail, confident in developing and implementing content marketing tactics, getting headline coverage and being able to identify PR opportunities.

Daily you may be expected to:

- Write press releases
- Develop annual & quarterly marketing plans for approval by the Global Director team
- Manage Tommy's social media channels including the Directors' professional social channels
- Write regular thought leadership content for use in our channels and by a lead generation team
- Secure coverage for our work, ensuring we're invited to comment on relevant stories and getting our articles published by influential trade media
- Manage the company website content to ensure it is up to date with recent content and company activities
- Regularly identify organisations and individuals who engage with us in our digital channels who we might want to meet
- Write and compile awards entries promoting achievements
- Support speaker events, through the promotion of events and the creation of follow up content
- Liaise with our lead generation team to provide assets that they need to succeed
- Develop new ideas for activity that will be effective in raising the profile and awareness of the agency
- Report regularly on results to the Global Directors, analysing performance and responding with proactive ideas to improve performance.

SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

Our new Marketing & PR Manager will have the ability to operate with significant autonomy and the regular reporting to foster the trust this requires. You will be decisive and detail-oriented with strong process and time management skills. The ideal candidate is someone who can demonstrate the following skills and experience in abundance.

- Content creation – we're looking for a candidate with a portfolio of work we'll recognise
- Marketing planning and execution with proven results

- Understanding of social channels, with a demonstrable ability to clearly define a B2B channel strategy
- Creative thinking matched with strategic and analytical skills
- Outreach to media and influencers in technology, creative and marketing
- Excellent verbal, written, presentation and interpersonal communication skills
- Confidence in managing upwards and liaising at Board level
- A test-and-learn mindset – someone who is well versed at using results to continually improve on delivery
